OUTLINES.

Forces were landed inHavana yesterday from the United States cruiser Denver as President Palma thought it necessary as precaution, there being wild rumors that the city was to be attacked; President Roosevelt ordered the blue jackets to be withdrawn——President Roosevelt and representatives of the State and Navy Departments are conferring about the situation; more war ships to be sent to Cuba immediately——Cyrus W. Davis, Democratic candidate for Governor of Maine, says the election will be investigated, the Winterville Sentinel claiming that the Democrats have elected the Legislature and will elect a United States Senator——Buffalo has a murder sensation, the police being engaged in he investigation of the sHsee(cd'AffairsePrseattu sthaodinro death of a prominent young man from Hoboken, N. J.——Before the Interstate Commerce Commission yesterday, a letter from a Western railroad president created a sensation and the lines east and west of the Mississippi accuse each other of underhand practices——Adjutant General Mickle of the United Confederate Veterans is on a visit to Richmond and finds the arrangements well under way for the Confederate reunion there next June ——Hon. William J. Bryan has replied to National Committeeman Roger Sullivan, of Illinois, reiterating that he got his position on the National Committee by unfair means and that as he is an official of a corporation it is up to the Illionis Democratic Convention to see that he is unseated——New York markets: Money on call firm 2 1-2 to 5 1-2 per cent., ruling rate 5, clearing bids 2 1-2, closing bid 2 1-2, offered at 2 1-2; spot cotton quiet 9.80; flour steadier; wheat firm, No. 2 red 76 1-4 elevator; oats firm, mixed 37, turpentine quiet 63 1-2 to 64; rosin quiet, strained common to good 4.05 to 4.10.

Secretary Shaw wants the South to join the Republican party. He must be under the impression that the South has forgotten that it had to put on red shirts to preserve civilization from his party.

Dr. Swallow, the Prohibition politician in Pennsylvinia, is accused of throwing mud during the campaign. Somehow or other water-wagon politics always did tend to muddle the situation.

"Air ships are dangerous," asserts a magazine writer. A man at Dayton, O., will agree with him. While standing on a railroad track watching a balloon in the air a locomotive ran him down.

Somebody has written an article for a college magazine to assert that there is no reason why girls should study mathematics. The girls know enough about mathematics to know when a fellow is cutting a sorry figure.

Secretary Shaw wants the Solid South to break its solid political line and thinks it is a shame for such a fine country to remain solid. In the meantime Secretary Shaw's solid part of the country might make a break by way of setting the South an example.

Congressman Burton might have had beter luck in his fight against Senator Dick in the Ohio Republican convention if Dick hadn't dodged behind Roosevelt. The resolution endorsing Roosevelt embraced endorsement of Senators Dick and Foraker and the whole pill had to be swallowed.

Col. Bryan has left the question of government ownership of railroads to the National Democratic Convention and the firing of National Committeeman Sullivan to the Illinois Sate Convention. Now let the campaign go forward for Congressmen who will legislate for the masses instead of for the "predatory" line up.

Says the Charlotte Observer of yesterday: "Whatever the cause of Senator Bailey's withdrawal of his appointments to speak in North Carolina, the people of the State are the losers. He is a great man and would have been heard by great audiences." Senator Bailey is one of the biggest men in the United States and The Star shares the regret that a man of his splendid ability is not to be heard on the stump in North Carolina.

GREER IS NOMINATED

THE GATHERING HARMONIOUS

(Special Star Telegram.)

Clarkton, N. C., Sept. 13.—Jackson Greer, Esq., of Columbus, was nominated by acclamation for the State Senate at the convention of the Twelfth District, composed of the counties of Bladen and Columbus, here today. Under the agreement existing for years, it was Columbus county's time to name the man, and Bladen was merely to endorse. Mr. Greer, who is one of the leading Democrats of this section and an able campaigner, had opposition in his own county from a quarter least expected, but he captured a majority of his delegation and was nominated with enthsiasm by all factions. He will make an agressive campaign for the success of the ticket and will be elected by as large a majority as any man his county could have put forward.

Just before the convention assembled the Columbus delegation retired for caucus to determine whom they would present for Bladen's endorsement, and a poll of the delegates resulted: Greer, 17 1-2; Williamson, 14 1-2. Total 32. That settled all the differences between the Columbus Democrats and upon the convening of the convention Mr. Greer was placed in nomination by Homer L. Lyon, Esq., of Whiteville. His nomination was unanimous upon the first ballot, the Bladen delegates enthusiastically endorsing the choice of the sister county.

Delegates from the two counties here today expressed themselves well pleased with the outlook in the district and say that the county tickets in Bladen and Columbus will be elected by old time majorities.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

Deeds Which Appear From Record Filed Yesterday.

I. J. Sternberger and wife to Mary M. Hill, for $100 and other considerations, property on north side of Harnett, 122 1-2 feet from Seventh street, 42 1-2x66 feet in size.

Godfrey Hart and wife to H. L. Volters, for $10 and other considerations, property 132 feet north of Castle street and 110 feet west of Fourth street, 66x60 feet in size.

H. B. Wentzensen to Miss Mary Bridgers, for $10 and other considerations, property at southwest corner of Eleventh and Market streets, 30x42 feet insize.

S. M. Empie, commissioner to I. J. Sternberger, for $530, property on north side of Harnett, 122 1-2 feet east of Seventh street, 42 1-2x66 feet in size, the same as transferred above to Mary M. Hill.

The Boss Rattlesnake.

Mr. J. F. Klein, of East Wilmington, brought to the city yesterday the boss rattlesnake of the year. He was killed in the field of Mr. Klein while harvesting day before yesterday and measured four feet long and carried 11 rattles. The snake was the object of much curiosity everywhere he was exhibited yesterday.

The heavy weight Republican spellbinders urged Roosevelt as the Maine issue but the voters did not consider him the main issue.

After trying State government ownership of rum shops for thirteen years, South Carolina has almost if not quite decided that she has made a bungle of it.

ONE MORTALLY WOUNDED ONE DANGEROUSLY SHOT

Fatal Shooting Early This Morning in Disreputable House on MacRae Street— W. L. Willliams and Brewery Clerk

In what appears to have been a general row in the dance hall of a disreputable house kept by Maude Pinner, at 210 MacRae street, between 1 and 2 o'clock this morning, W. L. (Pete) Williams, a well known traveling man was shot and mortally wounded in the head by Lonnie Snipes, a delivery clerk for the Portner Brewing Company. Immediately after the shooting, Snipes made a break for the street and was pursued by Special Officer C. T. Croom, who appears to have been in the room at the time and went for Snipes to effect his arrest. In the street in front of the house it seems that Snipes turned on the officer and the two exchanged several shots at close range. Snipes fell with a wound in the stomach. Both men were rushed to the hospital as fast as possible where it was stated from the first Williams could not live. Snipes' wound is not thought to be dangerous.

Lawrence Pinner and a woman inmate of the house, Violet McDonald, were arrested by officers who hurried to the scene and both are held as witnesses to the shooting. Pinner claims tha he had nothing whatever to do with the affair and was across the street, heard the shooting and ran over to see what was the trouble. The woman on the other hand, says that the row started over Pinner's knocking her down and that Snipes jumped in to interfere. Williams was also in the act of making peace between all parties, when Snipes mistook his purpose and shot him in the forehead. The woman says that she was knocked down by Pinner and knew nothing of the shooting except that Williams was lying on the floor with his brains oozing out. Officers Hardee, Burnett and several others were soon on the scene and with Officer Croom were busy early this morning arresting all who were in the room at the time with the purpose of using them as witnesses.

Williams has been a resident of Wilmington for several years and came here a number of years ago. He was prominent in a social way and came from a fine family in Kentucky.

CULBRETH TO ADDRESS VOTERS OF CITY TO-NIGHT

Candidate for the Legislature Will be Heard in Open Air Meeting at Fifth and Castle Streets— A Spectacular Feature

The Star at 12 o'clock last night was authorized to announce that Dr. N. M. Culbreth, candidate for the Legislature, will addresss the public at large at corner of Fifth and Castle streets this evening at 8 o'clock. It will be an open-air meeting and the speech will be from an improvised stand at the wide street intersection there.

Woodus Kellum, Esq., who authorized the announcement after a conference with Dr. Culbreth, stated that it would not be a joint discussion but that Dr. Culbreth would take the occasion to outline his position on the several public questions now before the people. Asked if his candidate would consent to divide his time with his opponent in case such a request was made, Mr. Kellum stated that he was not authorized to speak in that particular, but that Dr. Culbreth had no purpose to run away from any joint discussion.

The meeting will be the first spectacular feature of the campaign and an immense crowd is expected to be present regardless of whom they will support for the Legislature.

THE CARIB ASHORE

Big Clyde Steamer Had Mishap Down River in Dense Fog Yesterday Morning Early—Subsequently Floated by Tugs.

While proceeding up the river yesterday morning at 4 o'clock in a dense fog, the Clyde steamer Carib bound in from Georgetown, S. C., sheered out of her course slightly and went aground on middle shoals about nine miles down the river, remaining in that very unsatisfactory position until high water yesterday afternoon when she was successfully floated without damage by the tugs Blanche and Marion.

The Carib was coming up the river to complete her cargo here and the beacons were not visible on account of the dense fog that hung low over the river surface. Advices of the mishap were sent at once to Wilmington and the tugs were dispatched to her assistance but nothing could be done for her on the morning tide. In the afternoon, however, the tugs went again to the assistance of the big liner and she came off with very little difficulty. There were a few passengers on board but they seemed to enjoy rather than be discomfitted by the delay. The Carib reached her dock in the city yesterday evening and will proceed to New York tomorrow afternoon with very little, if any delay.

The Fire Department.

Elsewhere in today's paper, Chairman Martin Rathjen, of the Fire Committee, advertises for 20,000 feet of new hose for the Fire Department, bids for which will be received until the 26th inst. Chairman Rathjen also offers for sale the old hook and ladder truck of the Fifth Ward Company, of no further service to the city, and a lot of other paraphernalia, which he was authorized some time ago by the Board of Aldermen to sell.

—Mr. J. M. Howell, of Bennettsville, S. C., was among yesterday's visitors in the city.

A PERPLEXING LAW

Ordinance as to Operation of Trolley Freight Cars May Be Construed to Include Railroad Rolling Stock as Well.

It is an interesting question which Chief of Police Williams has to solve in a construction of the ordinance introduced at the last meeting of the Board of Aldermen by Alderman P. Q. Moore and unanimously passed by that body, requiring all freight cars operated in the city of Wilmington to be equipped with practical fenders. Of course the object was to require freight trolley cars operating on the principal streets to be equipped, but this week the Chief of Police has had his attention called to the fact that "all" freight cars are contained in the language of the ordinance and that a literal construction of the same requires not only trolley cars to be so equipped but every freight car of the Atlantic Coast Line operated extensively on the wharf and on the yards in this city will have to be equipped with "practical fenders."

Chief Williams admitted there was something in the contention and that while the locomotives have pilots in front, the cars are frequently pushed instead of pulled and that according to a literal interpretation of the law, they will have to have a fender on front. Of course, no one wants to impose this hardship on the railroad company, yet Chief Williams says that if the law stays on the books, he will have to enforce it. He will call on the city attorney today and get his opinion on the subject and if nothing else can be done, a special meeting of the Board of Aldermen may be called to so amend the ordinance as to make it apply to trolley cars only.

—The Democratic State Executive Committee has made the following appointments for speaking in this section of North Carolina: Hon. F. M. Simmons, at Dunn, September 22nd; Hon. Franklin McNeill, at Clinton, September 20th; Hon. B. F. Dixon, at Alum Springs, Onslow county, September 22nd, and at Southport the night of the 24th.

GERKEN TOBACCO CO.

A New Wilmington Enterprise Chartered by the Secretary of State Yesterday

Loan Fund by Legislature to Public Schools Has Done Much Good. Southern Express Company Annuls All Free Transportation.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 13.—A statement prepared in the office of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction shows that since the establishment of the "Loan Fund" by the Legislature two years ago to aid in the erection of public school houses $216,712.50 has been loaned in 84 counties. These loans have assured the erection of new school houses in 696 school districts valued at $654,835. These loans are made in such a way that each is thoroughly secured and there is not a single default by any couny or school disrict in meeting the payments on interest or principal.

Managers of the local offices of the Southern Express Company throughout the State have received notices to the effect that the new railroad rate law has had the effect of prohibiting the use of express franks or free transportation of any kind except for officers and employes of common carriers and special rates for certain charitable institutions. This applies especially to interstate shipments and there is also a law against discrimination and it is held by the counsel for the express company that it would be a discrimination to allow the use of franks in interstate shipments. All free transportation is therefore annulled.

Arrangements are perfected at Democratic headquarters for a special train for W. J. Bryan throughout the North Carolina tour. It will consist of an engine and two coaches and have on board, besides the distinguished Nebraskan, a special escort to be announced later and composed of representatives of various cities and counties to be visited. He will leave Raleigh Monday afternoon at 3:10 and observe very nearly the same schedule as last announced for the trip. Provision is made for short speeches at Durham, Burlington, Kernersville, High Point, Lexington, besides regular speeches at Raleigh, Winston-Salem, Greensboro, Salisbury, Concord and Charlotte.

Governor Glenn announced to-day the re-appointment of all directors on the part of the State and State's proxy for the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad Company. They are L. G. Daniels, Newbern; J. W. Granger, Kinston; A. S. Chadwick, Beaufort; L. P. Tapp, Kinston; C. M. Busbee, Raleigh; W. H. Bagley, Raleigh; D. B. Horton, Bayboro; T. D. Warren, Trenton, State's proxy. The annual meeting will be held September 27.

The Secretary of State charters the Gerken Tobacco Company, No. 18 North Front street, Wilmington. The company will operate a cigar store and amusement parlors in the old Purcell building, now occupied by the Parlor Market.

Funeral of Mr. Jordan.

Impressive funeral services were conducted at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon from the residence of Mr. J. A. Jordan, Cottage No. 6v. Delgado, over the remains of Mr. W. G. Jordan, the Rev. W. L. Rexford, pastor of Market Street M. E. church, officiating. Out of respect to the son, who is a prominent member of the orders, the Odd Fellows and Jr. O. U. A. M. sent handsome floral designs. The interment was in Bellevue cemetery, the pall-bearers having been Messrs. J. C. Wallace, M. Gulbrandson, W. T. Weaver and A. Silverman.

Mr. Samuel Rountree Dead.

Mr. Samuel H. Rountree, a leading citizen of Kinston, N. C., and a brother of Mr. Robert Rountree, of the firm of Rountree & Co., brokers of New York, died Wednesday at the home of his nephew in Kinston, at the advanced age of 82 years. Mr. Rountree was for many years Grand Lecturer of the order of Free Masons and was widely known throughout the State.

The New Apartment House.

Ground was broken yesterday for the handsome new apartment house to be built by Mr. Thomas H. Wright and associates at Fifth and Market streets at a cost of $100,000. The contract is in the hands of the Central Carolina Construction Co., and the building will be ready for occupancy on October 1st, 1907.

RECEIPTS ARE LIGHT

LAST YEAR OVER 17,000

Crop in Wilmington's Territory Seems Extraordinarily Backward or Growers Are Holding For Higher Prices—Thus Far Not a Steamer.

It is a remarkable fact and one which is being much speculated upon in the wholesale district that with the middle of September practically here less than fifteen hundred bales of cotton have thus far been received at the port of Wilmington for the month, whereas up to the same time last year the receipts at the port of Wilmington were nearly 20,000 bales. To be exact, only 1,334 bales of the new staple have been received this year to date since September 1st, against 17,070 bales up to a corresponding period last year. The great falling off in receipts is construed to mean that the crop is much more backward than last year or that growers generally are holding up to the Southern Cotton Association's slogan "ten cents or nothing." At any rate the figures are interesting as indicating the outlook over the large territory covered by Wilmington's enterprising firm of cotton exporters, who are covering every inch of the territory.

Last year the staple was bringing 10 3-4 in Wilmington, where as this year middling is quoted at 9 1-8 cents. There are those who predict higher prices later on while there are others who take a pessimistic view of the situation and claim that the high price level is already about reached.

Last year at this time the British steamer Tolosa had cleared for Bremen with a cargo of 10,482 bales of the staple, while thus far there is not a cotton steamer within sight of Wilmington. Five steamers were cleared from the port last September but from the present outlook, it seems doubtful if a single ship load of cotton will be taken out during the same month this season. The compresses, however, are in shape for the opening of the season and once the receipts will permit, the big machinery will be put in motion and a steamer can be loaded in short order.

HORSES AND PONIES.

Fine Animals With Cole Brothers United Shows Here Monday.

Your visit to Cole Brothers United Shows Monday afternoon and evening at Hilton Park will not be complete without a tour of the colossal canvas equerry. Even though you are not a lover and admirer of blooded stock, it is claimed you wil find an hour of genuine pleasure and much interest in inspecting the droves of horses and ponies. For the last year agents have been in different parts of the world making purchases for this department, with the result that to-day Cole Brothers possess one of the largest, most varied and costliest collection of representative members of the equine family which wealth can procure, and it is doubtful if anywhere near the like has ever been exhibited before. Certainly never by any traveling shows. There are herds of powerful blocky Normans, sturdy western and Canadian draughts, coquettish Arabian stallions, English bred long distance jumpers, fleet-footed Kentucky runners, wild speeding Roman chariot flyers, tiny Shetlands, Welch and native ponies and other high grade specimens of earth's finest horseflesh. Ladies and children are particularly invited to visit this horse fair, which all may safely do without escort as uniformed and courteous attendants are always present to look after the welfare of callers.

Before the Mayor.

There was nothing particularly interesting before the Mayor yesterday. Allen Wilson, a negro charged with the larceny of money from an old colored woman, in what is known as "Blood Block Alley," was held for the higher court under a bond of $100, which he could not give and went to jail. The old lady claims that Wilson broke in her trunk and abstracted the currency to the amount of over a hundrend dollars, but as the old woman would probably not know a hundred dollars from a dollar bill, the amount is not certain. Viola Blanton, colored, charged with disorderly conduct, was sent to the farm for 30 days. The other cases were trifling.

—Mrs. A. K. Sessoms, of Andaluria, Ala., was a guest at The Orton yesterday.

COL. BRYAN AND GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP.

At Louisville on Wednesday night the Hon. William J. Bryan took occason to read to an admiring audience of 12,000 a written explanation of that portion of his Madison Square speech touching upon the Federal ownership of interstate railroads and State ownership of lines within the individual States. The Nebraskan made himself plain and there is no excuse for misunderstanding him. Under that statement there is no further ground for the opponents of Democracy to attempt to present Col. Bryan's individual opinion to the country as Democratic doctrine, and leastwise as a campaign issue when the party has not passed upon the question at a National convention. In his statement Col. Bryan makes it plain that government ownership may never be an issue unless cnrcumstances force it to the front. He believes those circumstances will be forthcoming, and only time will tell. The eventuality upon which the whole question rests is whether the "railroads shall own the government or the government shall own the railroads." If the government can control the railroads we will never have government ownership, but the question is practically a new one in this country and it depends entirely upon the future whether it will really become an issue. It is true that government ownership has been talked for years but it has never gotten to the stage that it is up to the people as an issue in a political campaign.

Senator Isadore Rayner, of Maryland, contributes to this question one of the most interesting statements that we have seen. Upon the request of the Baltimore Sun he publishes his views in that paper on last Monday morning. He pays a high tribute to Col. Bryan, but opposes government ownership. After furnishing statistics showing the failure of government ownership in Europe, Senator Rayner discusses this phase of the question:

"We must realize that we have more than 200,000 miles of railroads in the United States representing a capital stock and bonded debt of more than $13,000,000,000. How would the government proceed to obtain possession of these railways? It could not possibly condemn them, and to build lines to compete with them is a vision and a dream.

"It seems to me that there is another insuperable objection to the scheme, and that is that the government of the United States has no right to undertake the railroad business and extinguish the charters of all the exising railways and prevent them from exercising their franchises. Of course, it can incorporate a railroad as it has done in the terrftories or in the District of Columbia, and possibly—although I would not pass upon it—construct a railroad in connection with the mails and with reference to military defenses, but I do not find that either under the clause regulating commerce or under any other provision of the Constitution that it is empowered to go into the railroad business and confiscate the railroad systems of the United States. Senator Newlands, when driven to the point as to how the Government would provide for a national incorporation of railroads, which was his pet measure, said he would do so under the general-welfare clause of the Constitution. We know that there is nothing in this, and that this proposition is entirely undemocratic, because the general-welfare clause confers no authority and is a perfectly meaningless phrase taken from the Articles of Confederation

"I say let the new Interstate Commerce law, which was passed at the last session, go into practical operation. I believe that everyone will be satisfied with its workings. Let us give it a fair trial and not follow a political phantom and apparition that I am confident will disappear with the dawn of morning.

"Government ownership will require a constitutional amendment, and Mr. Bryan will not insist upon it that we must incorporate a plank in the platform providing for a constitutional amendment upon the subject of governmental ownership. I am sure that whatever may be his own opinion or the opinion of Mr. Dunne, of Chicago, or Mr. Johnson, of Ohio, or Mr. George Frederick Williams, of Massachusetts—all of them men of original ideas and striking individuality—they will not, when the time comes, plant us upon this issue and put us to the country on it. There would be no possible chance of success if this were to take place.

"The Democratic party is a party of individualism and not of paternalism—so thought Jefferson and so think we all—and I predict that the Democratic platform will not contain any plank providing for government ownership and that Mr. Bryan will not force this issue upon us.

"You know that Bryan and Roosevelt are very much alike. They are both men of genius, of great courage, of unbending will, of high purpose and wonderful resources. Bryan differs from Roosevelt in one respect; he is not infallible. Roosevelt is. His entire retinue of sycophants and courtiers have persuaded him that he is both an oracle and a prophet. I know we are having an era of apparent prosperity, but I would rather have less prosperity and more equality, less centralization and more distribution—a man of the masses in preference to a man of the classes—and a return to the simplicity of our earlier days rather than all the display and pageantry of concentrated power in the hands of the Executive."

FNE INDUSTRIAL EDITION.

The Kinston Free Press has done a great work for the enterprising and growing young city of Kinston. Our esteemed contemporary is sending out an industrial edition that has never been surpassed in North Carolina, and it is not only advantageous to Kinston, but is a credit to the enterprise and ability of the Free Press people. It consists of 123 pages, is attractively illustrated, and contains interesting and well written articles calling attention to the resources of Lenoir county and the advantages and progress of Kinston, LaGrange, Dover and Grifton.

The Free Press is an honor to the beautiful and progressive city of Kinston, and its industrial edition would be a splendid achievement for a city ten times the size of Kinston. It is a handsome publication and Lenoir county should be proud of it.

A dealer who carries Dixon's Graphite Axle Grease in stock decided to make a test for himself. He greased the left wheels of a large wagon with the Dixin Axle Grease and the rig ht wheels with another grease. At the same time he instructed his driver to examine both wheels from time to time and report, but under no circumstance to put on any more Graphite Axle Grease as long as the Axle was black and shiny, showing the graphite coating.

The driver reported that after he had greased the right wheels four times with the other grease, the left wheels were still running all right and needed no attention.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

Governor Glenn has offered a reward of $200 for the capture of Irwin Petross, white of Salisbury, for the murder of J. F. Timmons, white. After committing the crime Petross fled and his whereabouts are unknown.

—Raleigh News and Observer, Sept. 13: Friends are delighted to see on the streets again Mr. Charles M. Busbee, whose left arm, broken in a fall at Buffalo Lithia Springs, is again getting ready for use.

—The Honorable Franklin McNeill will address the People of Sampson county at Clinton on Thursday, Sept. 30th, Thursday of next week, remember. Mr. McNeill is the Democratic nominee for Corporation Commissioner.

—The Norfolk & Western Railroad has announced that it can not run a special train to Winston-Salem for the Bryan speaking, September 18th, the excuse being that the road "can't get cars." Some of the people of Winston-Salem are indignant, because Bryan is the speaker. They say that 3,000 people along the Norfolk & Western want to hear the Commoner.

—The Republican Executive committee for the Third Congressional district met in Newbern on Wednesday in the office of the chairman, C. B. Hill. They made a call for a congressional convention to be held at Goldsboro, N. C., on Thursday, September 20, to nominate a candidate for congress in opposition to the Hon. Chas. R. Thomas, the present Democratic congressman.

—Last night Mitten Owens, son of George R. Owens, a prominent farmer who lives near Stantonsburg, Wilson county, was most probably fatally injured Wednesday by being kicked over the eye when he was unhitching the mules from a mowing machine. Drs. Moore, Anderson and Dickerson, of Wilson, and Dr. Crocker, of Stantonsburg, gave the young man attention, removing three pieces of bone from his head.

—Wilson Special, Sept. 12: E. P. Hill, traveling auditor, and J. M. Lally, construction supervisor for J G. White & Co., who have the contract for the building of the Raleigh and Pamlico Sound Railroad, were here Saturday and took over all the stock, plant equipments and tools of Good, Hart & Co., who were under contract to the Messrs. White for the building of that part of the line from Wilson to Zebulon. White & Co. will complete this portion of the line themselves, as they are doing the major portion of it. Good, Hart & Co. were compelled to give up their contract because of lack of capital, the work being too large for the funds in hand.

—Salisbury Special, Sept. 11: At the citizens' meting held to-night plans were formulated to give William Jennings Bryan a reception here on the 10th instant, second to none in the State. Committees on reception, arrongements, and finance were appointed. Mr. Bryan will receive a welcome not to be forgotten. Many thousand visitors from various counties will be here to greet him.

Burgaw special, September 12.—Congressman Chas. R. Thomas, spoke today, opening the campaign in the third district, at the noon recess of the court. He is exceedingly popular in Pender county and was warmly welcomed, as he is accustomed to be in all counties. He presented the issues, State and National, clearly, strongly and eloquently, showing a thorough knowledge and investigation of each issue he discussed.

—Capt. N. A. Ramsey died suddenly in Durham at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday morning at the home of Mrs. W. S. Holeman, where he was boarding. Captain Ramsey was an old school Southern gentleman. He was in his seventy-eighth year and was well and widely known. He was born in Chatham county, at Pittsboro, and moved to Durham soon after the civil war. He was educated at the University of North Carolina and served in the bloody struggle between the States.

—Kinston Special, Sept. 11: The Republican Executive committee of the Third Judicial district met here to-day and named Julian F. Duncan, of Carteret county, to oppose Hon. O. H. Guion, the Democrat nominee for judge in this district. No one was nominated for Solicitor, but Col. Isaac A. Sugg, of Greenville, was endorsed by the committee to make the race against Solicitor Moore, who was the nominee and who also lives in Greenville. Colonel Sugg is a Democrat.

—Harry Robbins, of Rocky Mount, died in the Sanitarium at Wilson on Sunday, from a blow inflicted by W. D. Joyner near Rocky Mount. Robbins was a tendant on Mr. Joyner's place and they got into a dispute over the grading of some tobacco. Joyner who was a man of some prominence in his section, claims that Robbins was advancing on him with a piece of scantling and struck him on the arm and was again preparing to strike when Joyner hit him over the head with a piece of lightwood plank.

—Sampson Democrat: A few days ago, while an eight-year-old child of Mr. L. Hobbs was amusing the baby, he picked up a cigar box and took it from one room to another for the baby to play with, setting it down just in front of the little one. When the baby raised the lid a four and one-half foot rattlesnake pilot raised his head and was fixed to strike at the baby, when the older child jerked him away and ran for his father, who came and killed the snake.

—Sampson Democrat: The Bank of Sampson opened its doors for business on the 10th, as heretofore announced in these columns. At the very start it is doing much business, and we predict that it will be a busy institution. It is well officered, having a strong Board of Directors, from among our prominent business men, a polite careful, attentive and competent Cashier. Mr. George A. Norwood, Jr., of Goldsboro, president of the Bank of Sampson, was in Clinton for a day or two the first of the week, at the opening of this new banking house. Mr. Norwood is an experienced banker, and understands the business thoroughly.

—Asheville Special, Sept. 12: J. J. Britt, Republican nominee for Congress from the Tenth District, made arrangements for Mr. Benbow, of Macon county, to meet Mr. Crawford, the Democratic Congressional candidate at Almond, in Swain county, to-day. Mr. Benbow, however, jumped the game and Mr. Israel, the Socialist Congresional candidate, who has been endeavoring all the week to get a chance to say a word, filled in the time. Mr. Britt, thought it would never do for Secretary Shaw to visit Asheville and the Republican Congresional candidate not be present, so he jumped the joint campaign yesterday and came here last night to welcome Mr. Shaw. In his speech at Almond to-day the Socialist candidate took a fall out of Britt's prosperity argument by declaring that there are in New York 60,000 children who were in school, but too hungry to learn their lessons, while the millionaires of that city spend two millions every year on their poodle dogs.

Still Ahead in Low Prices

Our regular prices are much cheaper than any special prices yet advertised. Our goods are NEW. The following shows how and why we do and can undersell.

Discount on account of large purchases, average,	10 pr. ct
Discount for cash (we pay cash), average	10 pr. ct
Savings of freight on car shipment, average	5 pr. ct
Total,	25 pr. ct

As you see, we can sell goods at a profit of 25 per cent. and at the same time sell them for just what they would cost us if we bought in small quantities, paid local freight and bought on time. We do not try to make 25 per cent.

Our claim is corroborated by the number of prudent purchasers we send. For June the 1st to the present, we have sold $4,540.21 worth of goods, received more than $3,300.00 in cash. Our books are open for inspection of any doubters. When in need of furniture come to headquarters.

"THE SULTAN OF SULU."

George Ade's Big Success To-morrow Night—Field's Minstrels.

The announcement that George Ade's musical play "The Sultan of Sulu" comes to the Academy of Music to-morrow night should prove a pleasant stimulant to those who enjoy this form of amusement. The "Sultan of Sulu" with its long record at Wallack's Theatre, New York, is well and favorably known here. George Ade, the author needs no second introduction to the reading public. He has long been established as a humorous writer of power and popularity and the admirers of "Fables in Slang" are promised a delightful treat in this his first stage work. From all accounts "The Sultan of Sulu" is a legitimate well-balanced play, garnished with delightful and insistant music by Alfred Wathall and interpreted by a cast of universal merit. Seats are now on sale.

The Al. G. Field Greater Minstrels will play an engagement at the Academy of Music Monday night. The first part will offer "The Gridiron Club," a burlesque of the famous newspaper men's club of Washington. This feature of the show was touched upon last season, and it made such a hit that Mr. Field has developed the idea. The Olio is said to take on all the forms of old-time ministrelsy. Due emphasis has been given to scenes typical of the old southern plantation. It presents Press Eldridge in his monologue; "Roll on, Silvery Moon," a big song and dance act; the "Black Barbers' Band," instrumental selections and "Dreamland Drink" and the antics of Bacchus. The sale of seats commences this morning. There will be no advance in prices.

MRS. C. H. CASTEEN DEAD.

Good Woman Entered Into Rest Last Night—Funeral Today.

Friends will regret to learn of the death of Mrs. Katie Casteen, the young wife of Mr. C. H. Casteen, which occurred at the family home in this city last night at 11 o'clock. The death is peculiarly sad because there is left an infant daughter, five days old, who will never know the care and love of a devoted mother.

Mrs. Casteen was the daughter of Mr. A. H. Martindale and was 29 years of age. She possessed a lovable disposition and was held in greatest esteem in the circle of her acquaintance. Besides the little daughter she is survived by a deeply bereaved husband, her father, one brother, and one sister, Mrs. Rebecca Johnson. They have the sympathy of many friends in their bereavement. The funeral will be conducted at 3 o'clock this afternoon from Bladen Street M. E. Church and the interment will be on Myrtle Grove Sound.

Gun Club Meeting.

There was an enthusiastic meeting of the Wilmington Gun Club last night at the office of Dr. J. H. Dreher. The principal business transacted was the arrangement of a handicap shoot between members of the club for a rifle and a handsome gun case which are offered as first and second prizes. The shoot will be 50 targets at the regular club meet this afternoon and 50 targets next Friday. The shoot promises to excite much interest among the members.

Young Man Died at Hospital.

Young Mr. Hardy McCleary, 17 years of age, died yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock at the James Walker Memorial Hospital where he had been under treatment for typhoid fever from which pneumonia later set in. A brother, Mr. H. R. McCleary, of Goldsboro, gave orders for the preparation of the body for burial and, Funeral Director Woolvin will send the remains to the old home of the young man, near Warsaw, this morning. The interment will take place there.

Kant's Windlasses.

Kant, the German metaphysician, was a singular being. The English writer Thomas De Quincey made close observation of Kant's personal peculiarities and frequently dwelt upon one of them with intense amusement. Kant, among other studies in the art of taking care of himself, avoided ordinary garters. He permitted no ligature to be placed on any part of his body, fearing to hinder in the slightest degree the circulation of the blood. He found it necessary at the same time to keep up his stockings. Accordingly he had loops attached to them, and outside each hip he wore a contrivance which may be called a box windlass. These affairs somewhat resembled an angler's reel, with a spring which secured the line at any given point. Behold Kant then expounding his philosophy to a select circle of disciples. Like the famous counsel who could not state his arguments without twisting a bit of twine, Kant worked the windlasses as he talked. The idea of this grotesque fancy so tickled De Quincey that he often lingered on the odd sight it must have been to observe the master "paying out the cable" or hauling in the "slack" by aid of this curious machinery!

The Wilderness Manna.

In Exodus xvi, 14-36, and other passages in the Old Testament is to be found an account of the manna fed to the Israelites during their pilgrimage in the wilderness. According to the article on this subject in Smith's Bible Dictionary, which is a summary of several passages, the manna came every morning except the Sabbath in the form of a small round seed resembling the hoar frost. It had to be gathered early, before the sun became so hot as to melt it. It had to be gathered every day except the Sabbath. The attempt to lay aside or accumulate for a succeeding day except on the day immediately preceding the Sabbath failed by the substance becoming wormy and offensive. It was prepared for food by grinding and baking. Its taste was like fresh oil and like wafers made with honey, equally agreeable to all palates. Indeed the manna became to each person the food he was accustomed to take. The whole nation subsisted upon it for forty years, and it suddenly ceased when they first got the new corn in the land of Canaan.

The Independent Shaver.

Two barbers were disengaged when the customer came in. Both got their chairs ready, but the newcomer dodged them.

"I need a shave all right," he said to the proprietor, "but I want to shave myself. Can you accommodate me here?"

"Certainly," said the proprietor, "but I'll charge you the same as if one of my men shaved you."

"That's all right," said the man. "I'm not kicking about the price. All I want is a chance to do my own barbering."

A tonsorial outfit was speedily produced, and the self sufficient individual set to work.

"Isn't that a new wrinkle?" asked another man who had been an interested observer of the proceedings.

"Not at all," returned the proprietor. "Every once in awhile we run up against a fellow who prefers to shave himself, but hasn't the apparatus at hand. We keep a lot of extra razors in stock for the accommodation of just such independent customers."—New York Press.

A Horse's Nose.

A man at the horse market recently refused to buy an apparently desirable animal on the ground that "he had a Roman nose."

"A horse's nose tells a whole lot about his disposition," said the reader of equine character. "An animal with a prominent nose has courage and stubbornness in equal proportion; consequently he makes a first class balker. Noses of the pancake variety indicate meekness. A nose that is wide between the eyes denotes trustworthiness. A generally vicious temperament accompanies the nose that narrows at the top. Horses that run away, bite their neighbors and kick the dashboard into flinders have that type of nose. A horse with broad, flaring nostrils is a high liver; also he is lazy. The thin, sensitive nostrils belong to racers and high class carriage horses. Fire department horses usually have the aristocratic nasal lines. Deep horizontal ridges in a horse's nose indicate humility and even solemnity. Ministers' horses and those driven by undertakers are frequently marked by that peculiarity. Of course, there are exceptions to those deductions, but taken all in all the thoroughgoing horseman will pronounce them about right."—New York Post.

Buying an Election.

In bygone days men were often unwilling to be made members of the British house of commons. It was costly and therefore a difficult position for a poor man, but at the same time representatives were not easily to be found among the well to do classes. There is an amusing account of how the sheriff rode up to the county court in the fourteenth century, ready to nominate a candidate. A gay knight, fearful of election, "hastily withdraws from the crowd at the words election and parliament and spurreth off as fast as his good horse may carry him." On the other hand, some sought election by any means, and the first instance of corruption in electioneering matters is said to be that of Thomas Long, in 1571, who, "being found to be a very simple man and not fit to serve in that place, was questioned how he came to be elected." The simple man admitted that he "gave to Anthony Garland, mayor of the town, £4 ($20) for his seat in parliament," which was ordered to be returned, though the seat was not forfeited.

IN QUEST OF BURGLARS.

Residence of Jno. D. Bellamy Thought to Have Been Entered.

Last night about 11 o'clock the police station received a telephone message from Hon. Jno. D. Bellamy at his home on the Sound, stating that some of his neighbors had telephoned him that there was a light in his residence in the city and that there were probably burglars at work there Capt. Smith immediawteyliiinMa21inh ...'s Smith immediately dispatched officers to the residence and surrounded the place with a number of volunteer citizens. The house was entered and the party searched high and low, but no trace of any one could be found. The light was burning in the hall as reported, but it had probably been left burning by some one of the family who had been there during the day yesterday.

WHOLESALE FRUIT HOUSE.

Mr. A. S. Winstead, Well Known Dealer, Will Open on the Wharf.

Mr. A. S. Winstead, the well known fruit and produce dealer at 213 Market street, has decided to abandon his present store and open up a large and strictly wholesale fruit and produce business on the wharf, handling shipments largely by the car-load and catering to the trade upon a larger scale than ever before. Mr. Winstead has rented the store at No. 229 Water street, where he has ample facilities for receiving and shipping both by water and rail and will begin business at the new stand at once. In his new quarters he has ample storage facilities and will be in every way prepared to handle the orders of the trade. Mr. Winstead has been in business for so many years in Wilmington that he needs no introduction. His son, Mr. Joe Winstead will be associated with him in the larger undertaking and the firm promises exceedingly well.

RAILROAD ROW BEFORE COMMISSION

Lines East of Mississippi River and Those West Accuse Each Other

JUGGLING OF EXPORT RATES

Some Roads Fear Commission Might Favor Others by Compelling Them to Give Notice Before Changing Freight Rates.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Washington, Sept. 13.—Unusual interest attached to the hearing of the Interstate Commerce Commission today on the question of the requirement of the new railroad rate law of thirty days notice of itended changes in freight rates. Aside from the fact that the testimony and discussions brought out charges and counter-charges of endeavoring to restrict competition upon the part of lines east of the Mississippi and those west of that river, there was injected into the proceedings something of a sensation when Chairman Knapp read a letter from a party whom he said was a well-known president of a Western railroad, insinuating, in connection with the question of waiver of the 30 days notice, that the commission might "wink" at certain practices of the cotton exporters while certain railroads might scoop their competitors by inaugurating "instantaneous midnight tariffs."

Chairman Knapp premised the reading of the letter with the statement that it was for the information of those present and that his action should not be construed as lending approval to the sentiments therein expressed. The name of the author of the letter was not announced, but it appealed to the Commission to do its full duty and not permit itself "to be winked at" in order that "secret midnight rates" might not be given to some favored shipper. One passage of the letter is as folows:

"I protest against the letting down of the presidents who will render the efforts of the company to obey the law useless and result in a flood of illegal practices and compel railway officers to again sit in the sadow of the penitentiary. the remainder of their lives.'

Judge Baxter, counsel for a number of railroads, upon the conclusion of the reading of the letter, declared that he believed he knew the name of its author.

"I think," said he, "that he belongs to a class of railroads that nominally profess obedience to the law and make what profit they do make by secret midnight rebates. We are not here before this Commission to ask it to wink at anything."

Judge Baxter declared that a defendant of right ought to meet his accuser face to face. In this case, he said, the opportunity was not given of even knowing the name of the writer of the letter. He was not willing, he said, for the people he represented to be put in the attitude of juggling with the Commission. "This, he said, "is a public hearing and it was extremely unfair that an anonymous letter writer should put us in the attitude of endeavoring to obtain some advantage over the Commission. I wish to acquit the gentlemen I represent of any sinister or underhand or nefarious purpose toward obtaining anything from this Commission."

Judge Baxter declared that so far as his roads were concerned they never had been accused before "of making anything analogons to a midnight secret tariff.

"The letter,' he said further, "is an insult to the Commission as much as it is to us. It is an insult to us to suppose we would ask the Commission to wink at anything and it is an insult to the commission to suppose it would wink at it if we asked it.'

"The letter, he said, " was a virtual confession of the writer 'that rebates and the iniquitous work that he has been carrying on is about as bad as you have ever read of."

The commission passed the mater over without announcing the letter-writer's name and ordered the hearing to proceed.

J. D. Moss, of Athens, Ga., an exporter of cotton, favored a return to the old system of making through rates good for twenty-four hours.

A. F. Churchill, of Savannah, of the Churchill line of steamers, announced that he was prepared to give rates on cotton in advance for every day in the year.

F. B. M. Strachan, a steamship broker, of Brunswick, Ga., and Fenandina Fla., argued that the publication of an export rate on cotton to the several ports and the observance of that rate without change on less than 30 days notice would operate to the advantage of regular line steamers and against tramp steamers. He therefore urged that the Commission under its dis discretion waive the 30 days notice of proposed change of rates.

The hearing developed into a discussion of the whole subject of cotton traffic, the outcome being that the representatives of the lines east of the Mississippi who are favorable to the waiving of the 30 days notice and those west of the Mississippi who favor the enforcement of that provision of the law, charged each with endeavoring to restrict competition.

Do You Know—

That the holder of a check cannot render the maker liable, should the bank on which it is drawn fail, if he has neglected to present it for payment within a short time after receiving it?

That, except in four states, the holder of a check cannot sue the bank on which it is drawn should it decline to pay, though having an ample deposit belonging to the maker?

That a purchaser in good faith of negotiable note or check obtains a good title thereto even though the seller had stolen it?

That, unless relieved by statute or express agreement, a tenant is liable for the rent of his store after it has burned down, although he was in no way negligent?

That an agreement for the sale of land must be in writing and that the payment of a part of the purchase money will not render the agreement a whit more effective?

That if an innkeeper loses or waives his lien for keeping his guest's property the lien is not revived by regaining the property?—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

The Mississippi.

Mississippi was originally Mecht Sebe, "Father of Waters." It was first spelled Misisipi by Tabott, a Jesuit explorer, and one consonant after another has been since added until it is now loaded down. The Choctaws called it the "Long river;" the Illinois Indians knew it as the "Great Fish river;" on old maps it is designated as La Grande riviere, Riviere Conception, Riviere Baude, Fleuve St. Louis, Rio del Espiritu Santo, Rio Escondido and many other names. The Indian tribes that lived on its banks named different sections to please themselves, and it is said that from its source to its mouth it was originally called by more than 100 names. Some philologists doubt the correctness of the translations given above and commonly received and think the original word means "all the rivers of the earth."

A Favored Instrument.

The story is told of a newly rich woman who on the occasion of her daughter's wedding gave a large reception, for which music was furnished by an orchestra of twelve pieces. The leader of this orchestra was a violinist who had achieved a social as well as a professional success, and the rich woman evidently wished to recognize this fact and make clear her knowledge of it. When the evening was half over the butler approached the musicians, who were having a short intermission, and in his loftiest manner he said after referring to a paper in his hand:

Cloves In Church.

"When I was a boy the whole family went to church," says a Kansas City man. "We lived in the country, and every Sabbath morning the family coach was pulled out, a team hitched to it, and the family was piled in. The roads were awful, but that made no difference; he had to go.

"I well remember that mother put on her Sunday dress. It was a black silk, and somewhere in it there was a pocket and in the pocket a handkerchief and in the handkerchief some cloves. When we got to the church I remember we went up in front, where my father had a pew.

"When the preacher got going I also remember that some of us children would begin to get sleepy, and then I know that mother would take out that handkerchief and give out a clove to each one of us youngsters to keep us awake. I was thinking about it just the other day, and I just wondered if a child or a man in these modern times would take a clove out of his handkerchief or pocket in church and put it in his mouth what in the world his neighbor would think of him."—Kansas City Journal.

Too Busy to Grow.

A small office boy who had worked in the same position for two years on a salary of $3 a week finally plucked up enough courage to ask for an increase in wages.

"How much more would you like to have?" inquired his employer.

"Well," answered the lad, "I don't think $2 more a week would be too much."

"Well, you seem to me a rather small boy to be earning $5 a week," remarked his employer.

"I suppose I do. I know I'm small for my age," the boy explained, "but, to tell you the truth, since I've been here I haven't had time to grow."

He got the raise.—St. Nicholas.

TWO YOUNG MEN FACING GALLOWS

Sensational Case in Durham—Married Woman Charges That Well Known Parties Committed Burglary—Attacks Woman's Character.

Durham, N. C., Sept. 12.—The preliminary trial of Captain E. T. White and Thomas Smith, charged with burglary, was a sensational affair today, and it had a sensational ending. Smith was discharged, as he proved a complete alibi, and the warrant was so amended that John Davis, another young white fellow, was included in the warrant in place of Smith. Then Mayor Graham committed both White and Davis to jail without bail on the charge of burglary. If the charge as made is proven it will mean the sending of these two men to the gallows.

This afternoon R. S. Boone, member of the law firm of Boone, Giles and Boone, who appeared for the defendants, went to Raleigh for the purpose of securing a writ of habeas corpus. It is expected that the two prisoners will be taken to Raleigh tomorrow, and there the case will be re-heard as to the question of dismissing the prisoners or allowing bail.

The affair has been the sensation of the day. All this morning and until nearly two o'clock this afternoon, when the hearing was completed, the mayor's office was crowded to suffocation. After the evidence was all in the mayor discharged Tom Smith and then called on John Davis, who was a witness for the defense, to show, if he had any reasons to offer, why he should not be included in the warrant sent to the grand jury. He said that he was not guilty, but he has no further evidence. The warrant was then amended and both men were committed to jail without bail.

When the case was called this morning Mrs. Maggie Coley, whose home these men are charged with entering at night time for the purpose of committing a felon, told her side of the story. She said that last Monday morning, about one o'clock, two men entered her bedroom from a rear window and that she dressed herself while they were coming in, and then when out on the sidewalk. Remembering that she had left her baby in the house she returned and secured the little one, going then to a negro's house for a part of the night. She said that a lamp was burning and that by this light she recognized Capt. E. T. White, but did not know the man with him. She then identified Tom Smith, who was sitting by the side of White, as the man with him. She said that she did not scream for help after getting outside, but that she had called for help one time before she left the room. The said that when she returned for her child the men had extinguished the light, and later she discovered that her money, between $25 and $30, had been taken from her trunk.

There were police officers who also told of having seen E. T. White and John Davis in that neighborhod that morning. Other evidence showed that these two were in that section.

Both of the now defendants and Tom Smith went on the stand. White and Davis swore that last Sunday night they drank some whiskey and later went to the home of a woman by the name of Boger, who lives next to the Coley woman, and that she is a woman of bad repute. They asked her to send to the Coley woman's house for her, but she refused, saying that woman should not enter her home. They soon after this left the house of the Boger woman and went to the home of the Coley woman, first knocking on the door and then on the window. They said that she answered them and they told her that the Boger woman had sent for her. It was then in evidence that she answered the supposed call of the Boger woman and she shut the door in Mrs. Coley's face.

They both swore that they did not enter the house and set up as motive on the part of the Coley woman that she became mad with them for sending her to the Boger woman's home.

It was intimated and shown in a partial way that the Coley woman is not a woman of good character. Practically the only contested point is whether the men entered the house, as they admit going there. Mr. Boone will apply for the writ of habeas corpus this evening and it is expected that the hearing will take place in Raleigh tomorrow.

Both of the prisoners have lived in Durham practically all of their lives. Mr. White was sergeant in the First North Carolina regiment in the Spanish-American war and was captain of Company I, First regiment, for some three or four years, until the company disbanded. He has never been in trouble before. Davis has lived here most of his life, being a dry goods clerk. There was no intimation that he would be a defendant until after his testimony of today.

GEORGIA GIRL'S HUSBAND COLORED

He Appeared to Be White and Posed as Wealthy Man, Thus Winning Her Hand—Now Fleeing For Life.

Leesburg, Ga., Sept. 12.—Six months ago Miss Eva Green, one of the prettiest girls of this place, and daughter of a prominent family, was wedded to A. T. Wilson, after a brief courtship.

One week ago she learned that the husband had negro ancestors. The girl informed her parents of her discovery, and the husband, knowing that his wife's proud relatives would kill him, fled.

On petition of the girl's relatives Governor Tyrrell offered a reward of $500 for the arest of Wilson. The girl's relatives made no secret of their purpose to lynch Wilson if they can find him. The girl is prostrated and is being watched to prevent her committing suicide.

Wilson had been here only two months when he married Miss Green. He had plenty of money, dressed well and announced that he intended to make investments here. He was a bit dark, but no one suspected that he was not a white man. He met Miss Green soon after his arrival, and paid her assidnous court, and their marriage followed.

The pair took a bridal trip, and upon returning occupied a handsome home. They entertained a good deal, and Mrs. Wilson seemed to be very fond of her husband.

It is said that Wilson himself told his wife that he had negro blood in his veins, believing that her love for him was so great that she would not care.

Young ladies should be most particular about their looks. Don't attire yourself carelessly; be faultlessly dressed, and Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will do the rest. Tea or Tablets, 35 cents.—J. Hicks Bunting Drug Company.

THE BREATH OF LIFE

It is a significant fact that the strongest animal of its size, the gorilla also has the largest lungs. Powerful lungs mean powerful creatures. How to keep the breathing organs right should be man's chiefest study. Like thousands of others, Mrs. Ora A. Stephens, of Port Williams O., has learned how to do this. She writes: "Three bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery stopped my cough of two years and cured me of what my friends thought consumption. O, it's grand for throat and lung troubles." Guaranteed by all druggist.

Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

A Cure For Dyspepsia.

If you suffer from Dyspepsia or Indigestion in any form, gas, belching, bitter taste, offensive bad breath, dizzy spells, sour stomach, heart pains, nausea, gastritis, loathing of food, pains in the stomach, then they will disappeaer in a short time after taking Tyner's Dyspepsia Remedy, made especially to cure Dyspepsia, Indigestion and all Stomach Troubles, even of the worst cases where doctors and other remedies had failed. Tyner's Dyspepsia Remedy for the Liver and Kidneys cures colic and Sickheadache in a few minutes.

GOLDEN NUGGETS FOR SALLOW PEOPLE

HAIR NATURALLY ABUNDANT.

When It Is Free of Dandruff, It Grows Luxuriantly.

Hair preparations and dandruff cures, as a rule, are sticky or irritating affairs that do no earthly good. Hair, when not diseased, grows naturally, luxuriantly. Dandruff is the cause of nine-tenths of all hair trouble, and dandruff is caused by a germ. The only way to cure dandruff is to kill the germ; and, so far, the only hair preparation that will positively destroy the germ is Newbro's Herpicide—absolutely harmless, free from grease, sediment, dye matter or dangerous drugs. It allays itching instantly; makes hair glossy and soft as silk. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

THE COTTON MARKET.

New York, September 13.—The cotton market was firm during the day's trading and closed at a net advance of 9 to 12 points. Sales for the day were estimated at 200,000 bales. The opening was steady at an advance of 5 to 7 points in response to higher cables and larger spot sales in the English market. Spot people were good buyers of October here, Liverpool bought January and there was a considerable demand from local bulls and one or two wire houses with Southern connections and in spite of selling by some of the local bears prices continued to advance during the middle session until they reached a net gain of 13 to 15 points. Toward the close realizing caused some irregularity but the closing tone was steady and sentiment around the ring seemed to be a little more bullish owing to the private reports of crop deteriorated and Southern advices claiming an increased demand for spot cotton.

Receipts at the ports to-day, 21,320 bales, against 12,978 last week, and 34,854 last year. For the week 150,000 bales against 72,746 last week, and 213,630 last year. To-day's receipts at New Orleans, 2,725 bales, against 2,368 last year, and at Houston 9,815 bales, against 10,624 last year.

Spot cotton closed quiet; middling uplands 8.90; middling gulf 10.05; sales 800 bales.

THE BREATH OF LIFE.

It is a significant fact that the strongest animal of its size, the gorilla, also has the strongest lungs means powerful creatures. How to keep the breathing organs right should be man's chiefest study. Like thousands of others, Mrs. Ora A. Stephens, of Port Williams, O., has learned how to do this. She writes: "Three bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery stopped my cough of two years and cured me of what my friends thought consumption. O, it's grand for throat and lung troubles." Guaranteed by all druggists. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

"To Cure a Felon."

says Sam Kendall, of Philippsburg, Kan., "just cover it over with Bucklen's Arnica salve and the Salve will do the rest." Quickest cure for Burns, Boils, Sores, Scalds, Wounds, Piles, Eczema, Salt Rheum, Chapped Hands, Sore Feet and Sore Eyes. Only 25c at all druggists.

Well Worth Trying.

W. H. Brown, the popular pension attorney, of Pittsfield, Vt. says "Next to a pension, the best thing to get is Dr. King's New Life Pills." He writes: "they keep my family in splendid health." Quick cure for Headache, Constipation and Biliousness. 25c. Guaranteed by all druggists. **

BRYAN REPLIES TO MR. SULLIVAN

Illinois National Committeeman is an Official of a Despised Corporation

MUST GET OFF COMMITTEE

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Lincoln, Neb., September 13.—The reply of William J. Bryan to the statement of Roger Sullivan, of Chicago, was given out to-night. Mr. Bryan had said he would not lower the discusion with Mr. Sullivan to one of personal controversy. The text of his reply follows:

"In his speech before the Jefferson Club in Chicago on the evening of September 4, Mr. Bryan referred to the case of Mr. Roger Sullivan, Democratic national committeeman from Illinois. Mr. Sullivan has replied in a statement quite characteristic of the man and his methods but he will not be permitted to lower this discussion to the level of a personal controversy. Mr. Sullivan is the Democratic national committeeman from Illinois holding his office by virtue of unfair methods. This matter was presented to the St. Louis convention and the evidence would have convinced the convention had not the delegates feared the effect of an adverse decision upon the Presidential candidate whom they were pledged to support. If Mr. Sullivan disputes the assertion that a considerable majority of the delegates to the Springfield convention were opposed to him he can fight the question out with the majority league of Illinois which will doubtless accomodate him.

"As Mr. Bryan has not asked for a nomination and has not announced that he will be a cadidate, he will not submit the question whether he should be a candidate to Mr. Sullivan or to any body of persons less numerous than the members of the Democratic party of the United States. Neither can the question as to whether Mr. Sullivan should be re-elected to the national committee be submitted to the members of a convention already adjourned. Such a decision would have no binding force The question must be submitted to the Democrats of Illinois when they meet to select delegates to the next national convention and Mr. Sullivan will ot be permitted to dodge the issue that is raised agaist him. He is officially connected with a favor seeking, franchise-holding corporation and the question is whether the Democratic organization should be paralyzed by the influence of men whose private interest make it impossible for them to be guardians of the public."

"In speaking of the Sullivan case at Chicago Mr. Bryan said:

"I hold that no man who is officially connected with a corporation that is seeking privileges ought to act as a member of a political organization, because he cannot represent his corporation and the people at the same time. He cannot serve the public while he is seeking to promote the financial interests of the corporation with which he is connected.

"This is the issue. Before the trust question became the dominant one it was not so important what a man's corporate connections were, but when this question is the supreme question of the hour, the party organization must be above suspicion, and the Democrats of Illinois and all other States are invited to inspect the connections of those who aspire to the position of party managers. The people cannot be fooled and the party that attempts to fool them is sure to learn of its mistake when the votes are counted.

"Mr. Bryan will urge the Democracy to put itself in a position where it can fight boldly and persistently for the regulation of such corporations as are monopolistic and for the prevention of any private monopoly whatever."

OUR BLUE JACKETS LANDED IN HAVANA

Forces Sent Ashore from United States Cruiser Denver at Request of President Palma—President Roosevelt Orders Them Withdrawn

Washington, September 13.—The landing of one hundred blue jackets of the American protected cruiser Denver on Cuban soil and their camping in front of President Palma's palace in Havana to-night in anticipation of possible attack or uprising, caused the most profound interest in official circles here, as well as regret at the necessity for such action. In taking this step, it is believed, Commander Colwell, of the Denver did not act upon his own initiative. In fact it was stated on official authority to-night that the instructions to the American officials were such that the armed force would have been landed only upon a request coming through Mr. Sleeper, the American Charge D'Affairs, at Havana, who perhaps is better acquainted with the internal situation in the island republic than any naval officer. It had been the expressed hope of the Washington officials that no such eventuality as landing troops would arise.

Officials of the State and Navy Department stated to-night that up to 10 o'clock no official report had been received from the Denver. In the absence of official dispatches from the diplomatic or naval officers of the government on duty in Cuba, the government officials decline to comment upon the action.

Landing of the Sailors.

Havana, September 13.—There are one hundred and twenty sailors from the United States protected cruiser Denver camped to-night in front of LaFuerza Castle the plaza de Armas, the little park in front of the presidential palace, which is the seat of the Cuban government. The American flag is planted just inside of the low stone coping separating the castle grounds from O'Reilly street, which thoroughfare passes between the camp and the Plaza de Armas. The American sailors are armed with regulation rifles with the exception of a few who carry revolvers or carbines. Two field Howitzers and two rapid-fire guns were sent ashore with the sailors and now point across the pretty little park, a significant warning to any one approaching the executive headquarters of the Cuban government with hostile intent.

The whole business was done so quietly and quickly that it caused the greatest surprise. The reason for the sudden landing of the American sailors was a conference between President Palma, Charge D'Affairs Sleeper and Commander Colwell this afternoon. On the occasion of the latter's formal call upon President Palma, Mr. Sleeper asked the president the direct question whether he considered that the government was able to protect all American interests in Havana unaided. The President replied that he had hoped the government would be able to do so, but himself suggested that it might be advisible as a measure of protection in the interest of Americans as well as for the maintenance of order in general to land marines at some convenient point, suggesting the Plaza de Armas as the place. Mr. Sleeper and Commander Colwell after a brief conference decided that the landing should be made this evening, and at 5:30 o'clock the detachment under command of Executive Officer Miller began coming ashore, with arms, ammunition and camp paraphernalia and took up a position commanding the approaches to the palace. Two hours later the commissary outfit followed with supper for the officers and men. Questioned whether their duties on shore would simply be protection of American interests or defense of the palace and President Palma, Executice Officer Miller and the other officers of the detachment unanimosiy replied that if the town should be attacked or if an uprising occurred in the city they undoubtedly would have something to do regardless of fine questions as to who attacked.

The general impression here seems to be that it is the intention of the United States not only to protect American inerests but also the government of President Palma. The presence in the city of American sailors has had the effect of creating a feeling of comparative security against attack from without or of any international uprising. Reports had been current today that the worst element of the population wer planning to set fires under cover, where robberies might be committed. It was also reported that insurgents in considerable numbers were approaching Havana from all directions. There has been no news received here today from the western portion of Pinar del Rio province on account of the interruption of telegraphic communication. The province of Matanzas is reported to be still free of insurgents. Santa Clara, the most disturbed of the provinces, reports more accessions to the insurgent camps, but there has been no fighting. Puerto Principe reports that small parties have gone out to join the insurgents. In Santiago province there is considerable anti-government feeling, but there are few actually in insurrection. Several villages adjacent to Cienfuegos are occupied by insurgents, but the city has not been molested. Although there had been some questions of its departure, the through train for Santiago left tonight as usual. The United Cuba railroads have not been seriously interfered with.

The special session of Congress will convene tomorrow. The Moderate caucus today decided to back President Palma's course in all respects.

One of the great questions that is slowly, but definitely, cropping out as the result of the insurrection is that of race, the Moderates in general condemning the insurgents as a mob of negroes led by white men of lower character than the negroes themselves.

The newspapers this evening commented favorably upon the appearance of American warships in Cuban waters.

Sailors Withdrawn.

Washington, Sept. 13.—Late tonight it was officially announced here that the sailors who were landed at Havana from the American cruiser Denver, have been ordered to immediately return to their vessel, leaving on shore a small guard for the American legation. This action followed the receipt of an official report by Acting Secretary of State Bacon to Mr. Sleeper, the American Charge d'Affairs at Havana, regarding the landing of the men. The report was not made public but it was announced officially shortly after that the sailors were landed from the Denver solely for the protection of the lives and property of American citizens, that such action was in pursuance of a discussion between Mr. Sleeper, the Charge, and the naval commander, with the belief that it was a wise precaution looking to the protection of the lives and property of Americans. There was no intention, it is stated, to do otherwise than safeguard American interests. That the landing in any way contemplated teh protection of either the Cuban government or the insurrenctionary government was disclaimed officially and it was pointed out that the fact could not be emphasized too strongly.

No Authority for Landing Sailors.

Washington, Sept. 13.—The sailors landed from the cruiser Denver at Havana have been ordered to return immediately to the vessel save for a small guard for the American legation. The landing was not under instructions from Washington.

MAINE MAY BE DEMOCRATIC.

Tuesday's Eelection To Be Investigated With That Result.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Portland Me., September 13.—"This election will be thoroughly investigated and it is likely that the campaign will be carried to the ballots if need be."

This statement was issued to-day by Cyrus W. Davis, the Democratic candidate for governor of Maine at the election, who on the face of the returns was defeated by Governor William L. Cobb, Republican, by 8,882 voes. Mr. Davis made the statement in commenting on a news item which appeared to-day in his personal organ, the Waterville Sentinel. The item said:

"The Maine election is still in doubt. There is a good prospect that the Democrats will not only control the next Maine House of Representatives but on joint ballot will have a bajority of the entire Legislature and elect a United States Senator to succeed Mr. Frye. As a sample of what is being done it may be mentioned that the investigation of the returns already shows the election of three Democratic representatives in places where the Republicans claimed to be winners. Information is at hand which indicates that this three may b- many times multiplied—in fact times enough to ensure the control of the eLgislature."

THE CONFEDERATE VETERANS

Big Preparations at Richmond for Reunion Next June.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Richmond, Va., September 13.—General William E. Mickle, of New Orleans, adjutant general of the United Confederate Veterans, spent today in this city. He had a most satisfactory interview with the local committees with regard to the Confederate reunion to be held next June, and expressed surprise at the perfect plans outlined for the entertainment to be given the old soldiers.

"Under such able management," said he, "the coming reunion is bound to be a glorious success."

RUSSELL SAGE BELIEVED

That it was wise for the average man or woman to follow the advice of experts in financial matters. At one time, in discussing this matter, he said:

"There is a common fallacy, quite as prevalent with men as with women, that while for legal advice we go to lawyers and for medical advice to doctors, and for the construction of a great work we go to engineers, financing is everybody's business. As a matter of fact, it is the most profound and complicated of them all."
